Your source for viewing municipal tax bills and information

Jan 1, 2011 – Press Release Point Software Inc., East Longmeadow, Massachusetts

Point Software Inc. of East Longmeadow, Massachusetts is pleased to announce www.taxbillsonline.com, a purpose built tax information portal that enables taxpayers to search for, view and print original copy tax bills online. The process is simple, permitting both Point Software collection customers and non-customers alike to have their bills hosted at this site including online payments designed to be bank neutral. This will allow customers to choose the bank that best meets their needs rather than having to do business on an exclusive basis. What further distinguishes this site for customers who are using our Web-based collection system is that Point uses actual customer data including payment information to generate a tax bill with accurate payoff amounts identical to the one mailed by the municipality.

Point President James Regan stated, "Taxbillsonline.com didn't just happen. It extends the development initiatives we set in motion over five years ago that began with transforming paper-based forms into online documents. Since then, we have engineered new technology including Web-based applications that are designed to extend municipal operations with paperless approaches. This kind of innovation is not something new to us. We have been pioneering new municipal concepts since 1989 and that is something that will never change."

The Town of Hopkinton, Massachusetts welcomed in 2011 as the first community to go live with taxbillsonline.com. On profiling Hopkinton's data, Point Software sought to provide a framework that would be recognizable to the citizens of Hopkinton yet could be reused for other customers. A Hopkinton background image was chosen for this purpose and link extensions were added from the Town's Web site to generate traffic to the site. Maureen Dwinnell, Hopkinton's Treasurer Collector stated, "We are thrilled to have this new tool at our disposal as it will reduce the amount of time my office spends on a daily basis providing this information verbally. I also like that taxpayers can register their email to get notifications about properties they are interested in following. I see taxbillsonline.com becoming an essential collection tool for my office".
